Improve your Dutch

NedLes offers Dutch for non-Dutch.
We focus on people with a higher education.

The NedLes principle

Every lesson and each course follows the NedLes rule: lesson times are reserved for things which absolutely require the teacher's participation, such as conversation practice and the explanation of Dutch grammar. Writing assignments and exercises are done at home and sent to the teacher, who corrects them at home and returns them to the student by e-mail. That way we don't spend valuable lesson time on work that students can do on their own.

Teachers of NedLes

- don't do things during lesson time that can be done at home as well;
- are concerned and stimulating;
- make sure that every single student learns as much as possible;
- make sure that every single student speaks as much as possible.

Location

The courses will be held at our beautiful 18th century canal house at the Nieuwe Herengracht 145, 1011 SG Amsterdam, near Metro station Waterlooplein.
